

Image Logs and Fractured

Reservoirs One Day Seminar

Thurs 20th June 2019

The Geological Society, Burlington House, London

Call for Abstracts

Submission Date: by 15th May 2019

On Thursday 20th June the London Petrophysical Society will be holding a one-day seminar entitled “Image Logs and Fractured Reservoirs” at the Geological Society, Burlington House, London. The day will consist of a series of themed talks, each lasting around 30 minutes with five minutes for questions.

We are looking for talks on image logs and petrophysical interpretation of fractured reservoirs on topics such as:

- QC and processing of image log data
- Technical advances in image logging tools - LWD, OBM images, resolution improvements, real time data
- Using images for geosteering
- Using images for sedimentology, net determination, rock typing
- Using images for structural interpretation
- Using images for fracture interpretation – fracture density, aperture etc.
- Petrophysical interpretation of fractured reservoirs
- Case studies e.g. integration of image logs with core and standard log data for optimising wells or production

This is a Call for Abstracts for presentations from Oil & Gas Companies, Service Companies, Independent Consultants, Academia and other interested parties. Talks on advances in tool physics are welcome but please keep talks technical in nature, as opposed to sales or marketing pitches.

Abstracts should be up to 300 words/one page of A4 and should include one or two illustrations, submitted in Word Document format.

Please send your abstracts to Rebecca Holyer (rebecca.holyer@uk.bp.com) or any member of the LPS Committee, by the 15th May. You can also contact any LPS committee member if you have any questions, suggestions or to express interest in presenting.
